The purpose of ARES is to provide emergency communications in the event of a natural disaster or other emergency where regular communications are inadequate. Sponsored by the American Radio Relay League (ARRL), ARES functions at the local level to meet local communications needs.

Upon completion of the application and acceptance by Gwinnett ARES, you agree to participate in training and other activities to develop and enhance communications skills to support emergencies. Upon acceptance, you will provide and maintain information on your skills, capabilities and available equipment to assist Gwinnett ARES in supporting emergency communications.
